Dear Mr. [REDACTED]:

In reply to your letter of 28 July, you do not have any claim against the United States Government. It was my impression that this had been quite clearly explained in my letter of 27 June. It was your responsibility to settle your account with the Northwest Federal Credit Union. While it is regrettable that a delay in the processing of your retirement refund cost you additional interest, the responsibility for the repayment to the Credit Union rested with you and not with this agency.

Sincerely yours,

Signed
